
General instructions

Who must file

A partnership must file Form 58, North Dakota Partnership Return Of Income, if it is required to file a federal partnership return (Form 1065 or Form 1065-B) and it carries on business, or derives income from sources, in North Dakota.

Limited liability company (LLC). If an LLC is treated like a partnership for federal income tax purposes, it is a partnership for North Dakota income tax purposes.

Financial institution. If a partnership meets the definition of a financial institution under N.D.C.C. ch. 57-35.3, it must file North Dakota Form 35, Financial Institution Tax Return, instead of Form 58.

Signature. Form 58 must be signed by a general partner (or LLC member, if applicable) or an authorized representative.

Nonfiler penalty. If a partnership fails to file Form 58 after notice to file is given by the Tax Commissioner, a minimum penalty of $500 may be assessed.

When and where to file

Form 58 must be filed on or before the 15th day of the 4th month following the close of the tax year. Mail the return to: Office of State Tax Commissioner, 600 E. Blvd. Ave., Dept. 127, Bismarck, ND 58505-0599.

Apportionment and allocation by partnership

A partnership that carries on its business entirely within North Dakota must report all of its income or loss to North Dakota.

A partnership that carries on its business both within and without North Dakota must apportion and allocate its income or loss to North Dakota in a manner similar to a multistate corporation under the provisions of N.D.C.C. ch. 57-38.1. Also see N.D. Admin. Code ch. 81-03-09.

Exception to apportionment/allocation calculations. If all of its partners are North Dakota resident individuals, estates or trusts, a multistate partnership does not have to use the apportionment and allocation provisions to complete Form 58. Resident individual, estate and trust partners must report to North Dakota their entire distributive share of the partnership's federal income or loss, regardless of where the partnership carries on its business.

Reporting of income loss by partners

A partnership is not subject to North Dakota income tax. Its income or loss is passed through to its partners. The amount of income or loss that a partner must report to North Dakota and the forms and procedures that apply depend on the type of partner, as explained below.

Resident individual, estate or trust. Resident individual, estate or trust partners must report to North Dakota their entire distributive share of the partnership's income, gains, and losses, as determined for federal income tax purposes. This applies even though the partnership is required to apportion and allocate its income or loss to North Dakota for purposes of determining the income or loss reportable to North Dakota by nonresident partners. The partnership is not required to provide any statement or other information to resident individual, estate or trust partners.

Nonresident individual, estate or trust. Nonresident individual, estate or trust partners must report to North Dakota their distributive share of the partnership's income or loss that is apportioned and allocated to North Dakota.

The partnership must provide each of its nonresident individual, estate and trust partners with a statement informing the partner about the requirement to file a North Dakota income tax return and showing the partner's distributive share of North Dakota income or loss. A nonresident individual must file either Form ND-1 or Form ND-2, and a nonresident estate or trust must file Form 38.

Corporation, partnership or limited liability company (LLC). A corporation, partnership or LLC must file a North Dakota income tax return if it derives income from a partnership which does business, or derives income from sources, in North Dakota. The partnership must provide its corporation, partnership and LLC partners with a statement informing them about the requirement to file a North Dakota income tax return. Special rules apply for determining the amount of income or loss taxable by North Dakota in the case of a corporation, partnership or LLC partner. A regular corporation must file Form 40 and an S corporation must file Form 60. A partnership must file Form 58. The type of return, if any, that must be filed by an LLC depends on its entity classification for federal income tax purposes.

Composite return

A composite filing method is allowed as an alternative method of filing for nonresident individual partners. Under this method, one individual income tax return, referred to as a "composite return," may be filed by the partnership on behalf of two or more eligible partners. For details, obtain the Income Tax Guideline: Composite Filing Method.
